Here & Now Art is Here Again

By Lillian Palmer

The month of August marked another reemergence in Sublette Center activities in the wake of the Covid-19 quarantine. The Center's monthly art class in conjunction with Pinedale Fine Arts Council and Pinedale Arts & Crafts was once again hosted in the building.

After months of virtual communication through Zoom, Mae Orm of Pinedale Arts & Crafts was able to host Here & Now Art in-person, at The Center.

"I'm super excited to be back here," Orm said. "With Zoom, I was able to say 'Hi' and see people's faces and reactions, and see them actively working on their pieces. The things that I wasn't able to do, which you guys filled in for that, was to see where people were with their projects, what step they were on and help them along the way."

Orm said its going to be nice to see the art created in person again and see the process and be here for that.

"The Zoom was an amazing filler for the time we couldn't be together, but to be here in person and have a conversation with each person individually will be nice," she said. "I miss the stories they would share."

Art has a way of pulling stories from people, memories, and they begin to share, she explains.

The in-person art class allows Orm to bring art pieces in front of residents again, which helps to get their creativity flowing and is important to begin the process of creating, Orm said.

Center Receives 4H Donations

By Lillian Palmer

The Sublette Center received a generous donation of meat through the 4H animal auction at the Sublette County Fair this year.

A total of 9 animals were donated, including 5 lamb, 3 swine, and 1 cow.

The number of donations this year was more than usual, Kitchen Manager Carrie Totten said.

The Center has received 4H donations annually, "since I've been here, and I've been here 12 years," she said.

This year's donations came from Angry Irish Repair LLC, Circle 9 Ranch, Espenscheid Enterprises, Grubbing Hoe Ranch-Garland & Rhonda Swain, Jensen Trucking, Performance Tech, Richard Trefren Builders & Dead Shot Ranch, Rocky Mountain Yeti-Pinedale, and Walkers Agri-Service.

"We're very appreciative for it," Totten said. "The beef steaks like New Yorks, Ribeyes, we usually have on special occasions, like New Year's Eve, Father's Day. The hamburger and stew meat, we'll rotate into our menu."

Word in the Center; Summer VS Autumn, which do you prefer?

"I like fall. It's just pleasant weather,"

John

"I'm sad summer's leaving. It just makes my morning, when I get up and the sun's shining. Fall, leaves are falling, it's messy. Yes, the weather's nice, but come on,"

Glen

"Summer, of course. I love the sun. I'm from California, I love summer and the warm weather,"

Maggie

"I like fall. I love the colors and I like the crisp air,"

Caroline

"I agree with her. To be truthful, I really like both. Fall, because it's cooling off a little, and the colors are beautiful. If you live where I used to live, in Jackson, it kind of calms down a little bit, some of the people go away and you get the town back. Summer, because it's just summer. It's nice,"

Sharon

Meet Sharon: Sharon is a new Heritage apartment resident. She hails from Jackson, Wyoming, where she made her career as a school secretary for 27 years. She was born and raised in Colorado, before moving to Jackson in 1951 with her family. She is a University of Wyoming alumni with a secretarial science degree. She enjoys spending time with her grandchildren.
